A market that attracts above $6 trillion in daily volume, recognized as the world's largest market and one which is accessible globally 24 hours a day - this is exactly what the currency market is made up of! It may sound too good to be true, but currencies is the ultimate asset class to be in!

Despite relaxed currency trading norms, currencies have always been seen as an asset class in which only corporate and institutional investors invest. However, what retail investors miss out on, are the small requirement of margins and lower entry barriers. The advantage is right at your doorstep as trading in currencies is not just for the big boys!

Although, currency is one of the most developed markets across the globe, its significance can be gauged by the sheer volume of trades that take place in currency derivatives. Hence, currencies should become an important part of your trading portfolios.

Currency Derivatives are very efficient risk management instruments and you can derive the below benefits:

Hedging

You can protect your foreign exchange exposure in business and hedge potential losses by taking appropriate positions in the same.

Investment

You can trade or Invest on the short term movement of the markets by using Currency Futures, and also can take long term exposures to various currencies

Arbitrage

You can take advantage of the exchange rates of currency in different markets and different exchanges

Leverage

You can trade in the currency derivatives by just paying a % value called the margin amount instead of the full traded value

Currency trading helps you trade for higher benefits with lower risks. With small margins and a low minimum investible amount, you can easily take advantage of the world's largest market.

Currency markets work immaculately on the demand and supply fundamentals, based on fund flows. The dynamics of currency markets are usually affected by macro fundamental factors like interest rates, inflation, trade balance (imports & exports), foreign inflows and economic & political scenarios in the country, which are easier to keep track of.
